

Did you know that California legislators have provided a historical amount of funding for child care for qualified families?

Options for Learning is screening families who may qualify for subsidized child care services.

To qualify, parents/guardians must demonstrate a need for services (such as employment or seeking employment, going to school, etc.) and meet eligibility criteria. Families are able to choose what type of care they would like, including:

- Center-based child care;
- Family child care homes;
- Family, friend, or neighbor who can provide care.

Unsure of what type of care you would like? We can help you determine the best type of care to fit your family's needs, and we can provide free child care referrals.
